Branching Out versus Other Program Options: A One Year Cost Comparison

Branching Out

Costs: approx. $18,000 annually

Monthly expenses if client lives with one roommate:

-Branching Out Services=$280 a month

(2hrs a week x $70 an hour = $140 a week divided by 2 roommates=$70 a week.)

-Rent=$850 approx.

-Utilities=$100 approx.- $75 assistance=$25

-Groceries=$140 - $70 assistance= $70

-Transportation=$20

-Entertainment/spending money=$240

Approx. $1500 a month

Yearly Cost=$17,820

Important Factors:

- Cost effective, wrap-around, individualized services
- Client is able to live in least restrictive, community based apartments
- Utilizing services that already exist versus paying for services
- Freedom to choose your own roommate and neighborhood
- A good, solid long-term plan
- Branching Out does not have high overhead costs, therefore we are able to provide quality service at lower rates
- No additional hidden fees
- Advisors are long-term and provide important consistency.

Note: This yearly total is considerably reduced if housing assistance is obtained. Also, Branching Out does not charge for travel time, phone calls, research time, or for on-call services
